Excerpt: .It is true that Mexico was not then independent; but claims for supplies furnished the troops engaged in the struggle to throw off the Spanish dominion, or for property seized by them, were recognized as valid by the Mexican officials themselves.¹ The recommendation of the president was reported on by the House and Senate committees on foreign relations. While substantially agreeing in sentiment with the message, the reports favored another demand for redress. The report to the Senate was unanimously adopted; but want of time seems to have prevented action on that to the House.² In furtherance of the policy recommended by the reports, an appropriation was made to cover the expense of another mission to Mexico when 1 Moore, International Arbitrations, II., 1243. 2 Cong.
