Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Advent Songs: A Revision of Old Hymns to Meet Modern Needs But my hymns will at least break ground, and may help others to do what is beyond my powers. It is clear at least that the first object in the attempt to make new songs must be to break down the foreign traditions that cramp the writing of English verse; and the second is to remove the remnants of foreign expression that block the way to a vivid emotional appeal. If these ends are made definite the task of writing songs may be left to the more competent. In the beginning I tried to write a song with a universal appeal. After many attempts I gave up this aim as an impossible ideal. The attempt to arouse the many diverse human emotions by one group of words, or by one tune, fails almost inevitably to touch any deep emotion. It is at best a mere skimming of the surface, not an expression of real feeling. I then tried a more simple plan - that of appealing to individual emotions and to local sentiments. Out of this came the purpose on which this collection of songs is based - not the writing of a national song, but the devising of a series of songs, each having a particular and limited appeal. Instead of one American, are there not many Americans, each of whose lives needs expression? In following foreign traditions we have separated songs into isolated groups. Thus our national songs are martial songs that have no appeal except when war is imminent; we have love songs for youth, topical songs for the music hall,...
