

The Rare and the Beautiful: How the Garman Sisters Captured the Heart of Bohemia

By Connolly, Cressida.

Ecco. 1 Paperback(s), 2004. soft. Book Condition: New. Much like the Mitfords, the beautiful, flamboyant, and headstrong Garman sisters took center stage in Bohemian London during the first half of the 20th century, from Kathleen, who carried on a three-decade affair with married American-born sculptor Jacob Epstein, to Mary, who wed the maverick poet Roy Campbell (who later attacked the Bloomsbury group in vicious satire after Mary embarked on an affair with Vita Sackville-West). Cressida Connolly, author of the PEN/MacMillan Prize winner The Happiest Days and daughter of the late Cyril Connolly, offers a group portrait of a band of eccentric siblings who possessed an uncanny ability to turn heads, break hearts, and spark creative genius." The Garman family of England's West Midlands was exceptional. Walter, a doctor, and his wife, Marjorie, had nine children between 1898 and 1911, two sons and seven daughters. Each was tall, gorgeous, and unconventional, and several ended up at the epicenter of London's modern art world. In her lively, emotionally engaging, yet analytical family biography, Connolly lavishes the most attention on the invincible and instinctively bohemian Mary and Kathleen as they leave home for London at ages 20 and 18. There, besieged by admirers, Mary...
